All Others Will Wait Until March 21 for Canvass,

Working Jointly, St. Paul Methodist and Calvary Baptist churches will make the church survey of the districts in which they are located Sunday afterneon. Twenty-nine teams, of two workers each, will assemble at Calvary Baptist church at I o'clock to receive final instructions and supplies. The instrictory has been allotted so that each team will be able to call at every house on the streets they are to canvass in about three hours, and return to the church, thus completing the survey in one afterneon.

Rev. L. H. Esten, paster of St. Paul Methodist church, and Rev. W. L. Norris, paster of Calvary Baptist church, are chairmen of the survey committees for their respective districts.

Arrangements had reached such an advanced stage when the general committee decided to postpone the city-wide survey to Llarch 21, that it was thought best to proceed as planned. The executive committee for the survey met with the ministers' advisory committee and the general committee at Court Avenue church Friday immediately following the noon-day prayer meeting, to plan further details of the drive.

Thoughts for the Quiet Hour G. W. K.

Blessed is the man, of whom some souf gan say, 'ale was an inspiration along life's tollsome way, A well of sparkling water, A fountain flowing free, Forever like his Master in tenderest sympathy.

those who, instead of being an "inspiration" to us, are veritable "stumbling blocks." They hinder instead of help. They cause heartaches and put our faith to a very severe test at times. But, after all, every great life is a tried life. It is by trial that the character of the Christian is formed.

Human fife has its compensations. There is never a loss without a gain. Whenever you ecome a blessing to others, the blessing will re bound on yourself. God is always with the man Who is striving to to His will. Christ helps us always toward the largest interpretation of life.

And there's more truth than poetry

A business man had become very much troubled and worried over the condition of his business affairs. He was absolutely at a loss to know just what to do or where to go for relief. In his employ was a young man, in whom he had the greatest confidence, and whom he knew to be a devout Christian. He finally stated his condition to him, and asked, "What do you think would be best The young fellow, who was plain-spoken and honest-hearted, without a moment's hesitation, replied, "If I were you I would take God into the firm!"

His employer pondered his words, soon took his advice, gave his heart to the Christ, became an earnest, devout member of the church, prospered in his business, and at the time of his death left a good sized estate, and better still, a good name and an influence for good which will be felt for years to come in the community in which

PERCY GRAINGER.

Completiny a most excellent and in Completiny a most excellent and instructive series of plano recitals, designed especially to attract and interest the student of that instrument, Mrs. Jason Walker, of the Memphis missical bureau, will on Saturday afternoon, March 20, present Percy Grainger, who is beyond doubt one of the world's most finished artists. The recital will begin promutly at 2 clock as many of these finished artists. The recital will begin promptly at 2 o'clock, as many of those who attend these course recitals are from out of town.

Those who keep up with music and its chief exponents appreciate what the appearance of Grainger means, as his recitals are events and have been for several years. He is another child prodigy who has developed into a mature artist. He was born in Australia, the sen of an architect whose nother the son of an architect, whose mother, his inseparable companion, was a thorough musician and gave him his first lessons on the piano. As a child of 10 he gave concerts in his native land, earning funds necessary to further his musical education, specific six vorce musical education, spending six years in the pursuit of which in Germany in the pursuit of which in Germany with the best teachers. Thence he went to London, his present home.

For the past five years Grainger has given some 150 piano recitals in Europe annually, playing before wildly enthusiastic and crowded houses. His appearances in the United States have but added to his fame as a virtuose of rare charm and merit.

KING'S

"The Fool Hath Said In His Heart There Is No God"

The things which we say in our hearts find expression in our lives. "For as a man thinketh in his heart so is he."

That the definite values of Christianity may be manifested in a way to kindle the thought of God in the hearts of those who have not allied themselves with any church, and to quicken the spiritual life of those who are already church members, the ministers of Memphis have joined in

A SIMULTANEOUS EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN IN SIXTY CHURCHES

Beginning with regular morning services on Sunday, March 21, and continuing nightly until Easter Sunday, April 4.

The campaign will be preceded by evening prayer meetings in 500 homes covering the entire city. The prayer meetings will be held at 8 o'clock on the evenings of March 15, 16, 18, 19. Location of homes where they will be held will be announced through the news columns of the daily papers.

The noonday prayer meetings now being held from 12:10 until 12:40 o'clock at the Court Avenue Presbyterian Church will continue throughout the entire campaign.

The earnest prayers of every Christian in the city of Memphis are requested for the success of this, the biggest church movement that has ever been inaugurated in our city. Go to your church tomorrow. Take a friend with you.

Every man, woman and child in Memphis is cordially invited and urged to attend these services. Names and location of churches participating will be announced later.
